

Coaches Code of Conduct

(Approved by CWASC Board of Directors on October 12, 2020)

Alpine Canada Alpin (ACA) licensed coaches are governed by Alberta Alpine Ski Association (AASA), ACA Codes of Conduct, and the Universal Code of Conduct to Prevent and Address Maltreatment in Sport (UCCMS).

The love of learning rests with appropriate teaching and coaching. Calgary Westside Alpine Ski Club (CWASC) wants to provide an environment where every person involved with the Club can succeed in learning, in whatever way it means to each individual person. CWASC want to teach kids and families how to grow up skiing, and skiing well. We are interested in a balance - including fundamental technical skill acquisition, equipment and tuning knowledge, constructive personal interactions, and personal growth for athletes, parents, volunteers, & coaches. Coaches are at the forefront of daily interaction with Club members and hold the most pivotal role in Club success.

We want coaches to

- Be involved with their own learning and coaching skill advancement
- Coach the athletes using all development tools available
- Commit 100% to the program and personal achievement of all athletes
- Communicate with and inspire athletes on any and all aspects of the athlete's personal goals
- Communicate with parents on appropriate aspects of the team and individual athlete programs
- Represent the best interest of all athletes.
- Set the example and behave in accordance with the CWASC athlete's code of conduct as well as the ACA and Canadian Ski Instructors' Alliance code of ethics and principles.
